1. INTRODUCTION

The Imperial Court system, founded in 1965 by Jose Sarria, has expanded since 1965 to include over 70 groups across the United States, Canada, and Mexico. This document is based on the Imperial Court System Manual of Protocol and Procedures.

Although the ISCWR is a proud member of the Imperial Court System since 1975, some of our protocol and procedure have evolved in slightly different directions than the majority of the System. Do not take that to mean that the ISCWR is doing anything incorrectly. The Imperial Court System recognizes that there are regional differences in protocol across the System, and their Manual of Protocol and Procedures is a recommendation of how things should be done while acknowledging the individuality of the separate chapters. This version will focus on how protocol is handled by the ISCWR.

Furthermore, the Imperial Court System Manual of Protocol and Procedures spends a great deal of time focusing on protocol for Baronial and Ducal courts. As we are an Imperial Court, all the information in this manual will focus on protocol and procedures for an Imperial Court. If anyone is interested in protocol for a Ducal or Baronial court, or if we ever sponsor the formation of a Baronial or Ducal court, information on protocol is available.

The basis for many of the rules and practices come from the premise that we are structured and conduct ourselves as a democratic monarchy. In the ISCWR, our figureheads, although elected to their titles, are referred to as "Emperor" and "Empress". These individuals are given the power to run their reign with the understanding that they answer to The Executive Board of the ISCWR. People of any gender, as well as any race, religion, ethnic background, or sexual orientation may hold any position within the ISCWR. However, roles that the holders assume are fashioned after the typical rules of etiquette that the world at large subscribes to for the male and female gender.

As a requirement to be a part of the Imperial Court System, the ISCWR conforms to the following mandates:

- The group must be incorporated as a not-for-profit organization.
- The Emperor/Empress must be elected in a vote open to all residents of voting age within a certain geographic region: namely the province of Alberta from the City of Red Deer to the northern border of Alberta.
- All monies raised, less the cost of operating the organization, must be given to charity or community groups.
- When using a court title won by either election or appointment, no one may personally profit from funds raised.
- Each group must show reasonable membership, and have available, at all times, financial accounting for public scrutiny.

The administrative responsibilities are outlined in the By-Laws of the organization which are registered with the Government. These allow for election, from membership of a governing body (Executive Board) which is responsible for the good of the organization. This document is available online at our website: www.iscwr.ca/ under the Board tab .

The purpose of using a structure of protocol is very basic. It gives each organization a structure of authority, names, rank and file, customs and vernacular to use. It is, first and foremost, a game that we have fun with, but a serious game with productive and positive results. The second reason for the monarchical structure is to give the ISCWR an understanding of how and with whom to interact as we visit each other's empires.

Hopefully this document serves as a guide to answer questions you may have about procedures and protocol.

 - b.i. The Executive Board on behalf of the association shall purchase the adornments of office for all title holders who have been selected to represent the ISCWR either by a panel of judges, election or appointment.
 - Mr. and Mz. Gay Edmonton
 - Entertainer of the Year
 - Miss Mary Christmas
 - King and Queen of Hearts
 - Any other as determined by the Executive Board
 - b.ii. Newly elected monarchs will include a plan for their reign's adornment in their proposal for the reign. This shall take in consideration cost and unity of design.

PROTOCOL GUIDELINES

1. HOUSE NAMES
2. UPPER HOUSE
3. LOWER HOUSE
4. REGALIA
5. CORONATION(S)
6. DYNASTIC NAMES
7. AWARDS
8. CONCLUSION

1. HOUSE NAMES

Although there are variations of the house name, traditionally the name follows the structure of:

The (Reign Number) Imperial House of (under Millicent) . . . Some examples of past house names include:

The Twentieth Fourth Dynasty of Ebony and Ivory, with Fried Chicken, Watermelon, and Ta-Ta's For Days

The Twenty Fifth House under Millicent, The Celebration Court

The Twenty Sixth House under Millicent, The Fun That Was Lost But Not Forgotten

Only the Emperor and Empress are allowed to give titles. Monarchs may only give titles during their reign. Each set of Monarchs is allowed to give members of the organization titles within their "House". Titles created by the Monarchs exist only for the year of their reign. Furthermore, with the consultation of the Executive Board, the Monarchs can remove any title if the holders do not live up to obligations set out by the Monarchs.

The majority of the Titles given out by the Monarchs are given out at the Annual Investitures, traditionally held on the last weekend of September. The Monarchs, however, do have the privilege of giving out titles in their house at any time during their reign, up to and including the night of the Annual Charity Ball when they step down.

Titles are split into Upper House and Lower House Titles. The Executive Board of the ISCWR must approve all Upper House Titles.

2. THE UPPER HOUSE

a. EMPEROR AND EMPRESS:

Let it be stressed here that the title of Emperor and Empress are equal titles in the eyes of both the Imperial Court System, and the ISCWR. At no time should the Emperor ever be considered of lesser importance than the Empress. Regardless of the actual sex of the titleholder, Emperor is always referred to as "His" and Empress is always referred to as "Her".

As Monarchs are elected by the community, that title and their number will remain with the bearers for life, unless the title holder is formally impeached and removed from their title by the Executive Board of the ISCWR.

The Monarchs have the responsibility of being the heads of the Court for one year. It becomes their opportunity to direct the fund raising activities, represent the Court publicly both in and out of town, and take responsibility generally for the accomplishments of the organization for the past year. In return, they are afforded throughout the year a great deal of privilege and courtesy. For example:

- All Titleholders, except other Monarchs, usually greet them with a bow on formal occasions.
- At their discretion, they have the privilege of opening or closing all ISCWR run shows.
- At out of town functions, they are introduced last in ISCWR introductions and shown particular respect by other Monarchs.
- At out of town coronations, all reigning Monarchs have the privilege of performing over any other members of their court.

The Monarchs have certain obligations as described in procedures.

Each Monarch has a title that they are referred to during their reign. Again, although there are some exceptions to this, the title generally follows this formula:

His Most Imperial Sovereign Majesty, the (Reign Number) Elected/Appointed Emperor of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Personal title), (Name)

Or:

Her Most Imperial Sovereign Majesty, the (Reign Number) Elected/Appointed Empress of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Personal title), (Name)

For Example:

His Most Imperial Sovereign Majesty, the Twenty-Sixth Elected Emperor of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, The Tragically Rhinestone, Rob Bigonion

Only reigning Monarchs are allowed usage of the word "Most". Upon stepping down from the position of Monarch, the title reverts to His/Her Imperial Sovereign Majesty.

The personal part of your title is used to reflect you, and define you separate from other monarchs. It should be of importance to you. It is recommended however to keep this part of your title short. Long titles cause people to stop listening, and therefore the audience can miss the actual name and rank of the Monarch. Also, it tends to lengthen an already long evening at a coronation.

Monarchs receive pages in the Annual Charity Ball Program for a thank you message to the community. Also, they receive a last walk at the Annual Charity Ball.

Upon completion of a successful year, Monarchs are admitted into the College of Monarchs, and become part of the Line of Succession of the ISCWR.

b. EMPEROR ½ and EMPRESS ½

Emperor and Empress ½ are optional honorary titles given out by the Reigning Emperor and Empress upon approval by the Executive Board of the ISCWR. One each of "In Town" and "Out of Town" may be selected by each of the current Monarchs.

These titles are given out to people on the circuit who have earned the Emperor and Empress's respect and friendship. The purpose of these titles is for the recipient to use them to represent Edmonton's Monarchs at functions Edmonton's Monarchs are unable to attend. It is strongly recommended that these titles not be given to reigning monarchs, as these monarchs have their own duties to attend to and may not be able to represent the ISCWR in the same fashion.

This title is not a lifetime title. The only privilege afforded the ½ Monarchs, besides being allowed to walk representing the ISCWR at coronations, is a last walk at a point determined by the Emperor and Empress during Edmonton's Coronation Week (i.e. at the Out of Town Show or the Coronation Ball).

Although many Monarchs name their ½ title upon stepping up, there is no rule that says they must do so. If there is no one who seems like a good fit for you to name as your half, it is better to wait until you meet the right person in your travels.

c. IMPERIAL CROWN PRINCE AND IMPERIAL CROWN PRINCESS:

Responsibilities of the Prince and Princess are described in procedures.

Each ICP has a title that they are referred to during their reign. Again, although there are some exceptions to this, the title generally follows this formula:

His Most Imperial Sovereign Highness, Imperial Crown Prince (Number) of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Personal title), (Name)

Or:

Her Most Imperial Sovereign Highness, Imperial Crown Princess (Number) of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Personal title), (Name)

For Example:

His Most Imperial Sovereign Highness, Imperial Crown Prince 26 of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, The Prince of Harshness, Bobby

Only reigning ICPs are allowed usage of the word "Most". Upon stepping down from the position of ICP, the title reverts to His/Her Imperial Sovereign Highness.

The personal part of your title is used to reflect you, and define you separate from other ICPs. It should be of importance to you. It is recommended however to keep this part of your title short. Long titles cause people to stop listening, and therefore the audience can miss the actual name and rank of the Monarch. Also, it tends to lengthen an already long evening at a coronation.

Upon stepping down, ICPs are admitted into the College of Monarchs, and become part of the Line of Succession of the ISCWR.

The ICPs receive a page of the Annual Charity Ball Program each year to give a thank you message. Also, the ICP's receive a last walk at the Annual Charity Ball. This title is a Perpetual Title, and all holders of this title will be listed in the ball program each year.

d. IMPERIAL GRAND DUKE AND DUCHESS

The responsibilities of the Duke and Duchess are outlined in procedures.

Each IGD has a title that they are referred to during their reign. Again, although there are some exceptions to this, the title generally follows this formula:

His Most Imperial Sovereign Grace, Imperial Grand Duke (Number) of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Name) or:

Her Most Imperial Sovereign Grace, Imperial Grand Duchess (Number) of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta, (Name)

For Example:

Her Most Imperial Sovereign Grace, Imperial Grand Duchess 26 of Edmonton and all of Northern Alberta n, Krystall Ball

Only reigning IGDs are allowed usage of the word "Most". Upon stepping down from the position of IGD, the title reverts to His/Her Imperial Sovereign Grace.

This title is a Perpetual Title.

Although not Upper House, the Gay Edmonton's have higher expectations placed on them than many other "lower" titles.

e. Mr. / Mz Gay Edmonton:

- The Gay Edmontons are unique from the Gays of other cities. While in most cities the Gays have their own organization, in Edmonton they are still a part of the ISCWR. Regardless of the actual gender of the titleholder, Mr. Gay Edmonton is always referred to as "His" and Mz Gay Edmonton are always referred to as "Her". They are also given high placement during Court walks at functions both in town and out of town.
- These titles are Perpetual Titles, and the holders of these titles will be listed in the Annual Charity Ball Program each year.

3. LOWER HOUSE

The Lower House is made up of the workers in your Court. These are members of the organization who maybe are not yet ready to hold an Upper House title, or may be former members of the Upper House whom the Monarchs choose to honour in their reign with titles.

Following is a listing of Lower House Titles available, and when necessary, some comments upon them.

a. Entertainer of the Year:

- Each year, there is an Entertainer of the Year. The selection of Entertainer of the Year is described in Procedures.
- Entertainer of the Year is free to plan shows or fundraisers with the support of the Board. This title is a Perpetual Title, and the holders of this title will be listed in the Annual Charity Ball Program each year.

b. Other Annual Titles

- These include titles such as Miss Mary Christmas, King and Queen of Hearts, the Amateur King and Queen, and the Junior King and Queen.
- Pageant, judging and/or voting are coordinated by the Emperor and Empress of the current reign in consultation with the current title holders and the Executive Board.
- No obligations exist with these titles, although as title holders they are representatives of the Court;
- As members of the Court they are free to plan events in consultation with the Emperor and Empress and the Executive Board

c. CAMP TITLES AND POSITIONS

Camp Titles and Positions are any title that does not fall into the hierarchy of the Monarchy we follow. Camp Titles are generally fun titles. Positions indicate some form of job or duty to the Monarchs.

d. PRINCES AND PRINCESSES:

The Monarchs may give out the title of Prince and Princess.

Prince and Princess titles generally given out include (but are not limited to):

- Prince & Princess of the Realm
- Prince & Princess of the Wild Rose
- Personal Prince & Princess to the Emperor
- Personal Prince & Princess to the Empress
- Prince or Princess Consort to the Emperor
- Prince or Princess Consort to the Empress

e. OTHER TITLES:

The Monarchs can name as many people to the Lower House as they want in order to fulfill the needs of the reign. Titles the Monarchs may give out include, but are not limited to:

- Duke/Duchess
- Marques/Marquessa
- Earl
- Count/Countess
- Viscount/Viscountess
- Baron/Baroness
- Knight (Sir)/Dame
- Lord in Waiting/Lady in Waiting
- Esquire/Squire
- Lord/Lady
- Lordling/Damsel

f. KEEPER:

The title of Keeper is given to someone who is not overly active within the court, but whom the Monarchs still want to acknowledge with a title in the reign. Examples of Keeper Titles include:

- Keeper of the Emperors Play Things
- Keeper of the Empress's Wigs

g. AMBASSADORS:

Ambassadors are generally titleholders from other Courts that the Monarchs want to honour with a title in their house. Ambassadors have no rights or obligations with the ISCWR, although they are allowed to represent the ISCWR on the circuit.

4. REGALIA

a. REGALIA FOR CROWNING CEREMONIES:

There are certain pieces of Regalia that are used for the purpose of crowning titleholders only. They may include:

- -the Sword of State
- -the Orb of State
- -the State Crown
- -the Cross and Chalice
- -the Robes of State
- -the State Sceptre

b. REGALIA FOR UPPER HOUSE MEMBERS:

- Please note information as provided in Procedures #24 Regalia

As a general tradition, if being used, only reigning Male titleholders wear their crowns on their left shoulders. Once a male titleholder steps down, the crown should be worn on his right shoulder.

These crowns/tiaras and medallions are the State Regalia of the ISCWR, and are encouraged to be worn whenever the titleholder represents the ISCWR.

Upon stepping down from the position of a reigning titleholder, Monarchs are allowed to wear whatever regalia they feel are appropriate.

The Empress and Emperor are allowed, at their discretion, to select a sceptre for their reign. When selecting a sceptre, Monarchs are reminded to keep good taste and their regal position in mind.

c. REGALIA FOR LOWER HOUSE TITLES:

- Please note information as provided in Procedures #24 Regalia

It is the policy of the ISCWR to encourage everyone's participation in the organization, and to never actively discourage anyone who wants to represent the organization with the dignity the organization deserves.

With that in mind, we now allow any titleholder within the ISCWR to wear regalia they feel is appropriate to their title. Generally speaking, that indicates the wearing of a crown shaped pin or broach. This is encouraged of the members, as it shows their association with the ISCWR.

If a Lower House title would like to wear a crown or tiara, there are a couple rules of thumb to follow which will help avoid awkward situations.

i. No title holder other than the Empress shall wear a crown, but will only wear tiaras (Crowns are a full round circle. Tiaras are open in the back).

ii. If titleholders in the Lower House are insistent upon wearing tiaras/crowns, please ensure they are smaller than the Regalia worn by the Imperial Grand Duke and Duchess. To wear regalia larger than the IGDs would lead to the impression that the Lower House titleholder is of a higher station than they actually are.

5. CORONATION

a. SUGGESTED DRESS CODE:

Simply put, the code of dress for state functions is formal.

Female titles should be presented as females, and not in male face or dress. There are some exceptions to this, such as illness, preparation for special presentations, or retirement from active involvement in the drag community. By the same token, male titles should not walk in female face or dress. Unless special situations demand otherwise, if you will not walk in the mode of your title, you should not use that title.

Female titles should be dressed formally in Cocktail Length or longer dresses. Gloves are optional. Empresses should always walk in full-length gowns, unless the Court is doing a production number, and the Empress will not have time to change before she walks.

Male titles should be dressed in formal garb. Tuxedos or suits are acceptable. Gloves are optional. Leather and cowboy gear may also be worn, as may beaded outfits. If a male title is going to wear jeans into a ballroom, please ensure the jeans are clean and in good repair.

b. BOWING AND CURTSEYING:

When one of a lesser title is presented to a Monarch, a simple bow or curtsy is required.

Male titles should present a slight bow from the waist and be at least an arm's distance from the person they are bowing to. Female titles should present a small curtsy also at arm's length distance. A curtsy is done with a straight back, usually with the right foot behind the left foot. With the right knee directly behind the left knee, a small bend completes the curtsy.

Those of equivalent or higher title do NOT bow or curtsy when presented. For example, Emperors do NOT bow to other Emperors. An acknowledgment is done with a nod of the head and looking each other in the eye. Once one has become an Emperor or Empress, your days of bowing and curtsying are done.

c. ALCOHOL AND DRUGS:

Coronation Weekends are an opportunity to get together with friends you haven't seen in a while and have a good time. And while we understand that alcohol will be a part of your good time, we are also aware of the importance of representing the ISCWR with dignity. With that in mind, here are some guidelines to follow when it comes to alcohol at a Court Function.

The Out of Town Show, the evening before coronation, is your evening to get out and have fun.

Feel free to drink and have a good time.

It is our wish, however, that the night of Coronation, drinking is kept to a minimum. Do not take this to mean that you cannot drink, just do so with moderation. Remember:

Coronation Night, you are representing the ISCWR in a regal setting. Please do so with dignity.

If you should happen to find that you do get drunk and out of control at any ISCWR function — Coronation or otherwise — it is important to recognize this fact and remove yourself from the situation as soon as possible. If you do this, there will be no repercussions to your actions. You will only face difficulties if you do not remove yourself from the situation, and cause embarrassment to the ISCWR.

As far as the use of drugs goes, the ISCWR has a strict policy: Any title holder proven to be using illegal drugs in a public place, or in any place to which the public may reasonably have access, may be removed from their title immediately.

d. PRESENTATION OF GIFTS:

It is customary to present stepping down Monarchs, etc. with a gift, either by the visiting courts or by the individual court members.

Most stepping down Monarchs give souvenir pins to all presented to their dais. Such pins should never be pinned onto the recipients. The decision to wear such pins is at the discretion of the recipient.

e. WALKING AT A CORONATION:

When walking at a Coronation, protocol is that people walk from the lowest title to the highest title (See Walk/Entrance Protocol). As a convention, in equal titles, the male walks before the female title.

If you are walking as part of a couple, the male title is read first. The male title should walk to the end of the stage and wait for the female title. As the female title is read, the female titleholder should walk out to the male titleholder. At this point, the male titleholder will take the hand of the female titleholder, and they will walk up to greet the monarchs. Walk in order to mirror the Monarchs, so the male titleholder greets the Emperor first, and the female greets the Empress first. Bow or curtsy as appropriate. Any gifts may be presented at this time.

If you are walking without escort, when your name is announced, you can simply walk up onto the dais and greet the stepping down Monarchs,

Once the couple has greeted the Monarchs, move to the side of the stage, and wait until all the titles for your Court have been introduced. After all titles are on stage, you may leave the stage as a group. If there are stairs on the side of the stage, please exit by those stairs, rather than walking back down the runway.

As a courtesy, it is acceptable for the stepping down Monarchs to walk forward on the stage to greet certain Monarchs, and then escort them back to the dais. This honour is usually reserved for reigning Monarchs, but can be given to anyone you hold in very high esteem.

f. NUMBER OF COURT WALKS:

Individuals should never walk more than once at a coronation event. If individuals are given titles from other courts, such as Ambassador titles, the titleholder must choose which court they will walk with. Generally speaking, you walk with the organization in which you hold your highest title.

An exception to this rule is with Emperor & Empress ½ titles. If you hold a ½ title in another court, we encourage you to walk with that other court to show support for that Monarch, as well as with your own Court.

g. NUMBER OF TITLES:

Generally speaking, when you walk, you only walk with your highest title. If a title holder is currently reigning with a lower title than a Perpetual Title they have earned in the past, they may be asked to suspend their highest title for the reign (i.e.: Empresses who become Imperial Crown Princesses).

Monarchs are permitted to break the above rule, but it is recommended that they only break the rule in order to use and ½ titles they have received.

h. WALK/ENTRANCE PROTOCOL:

When writing protocol for an emcee at a Coronation to read, there is a simple format to be followed. If your Court is doing a production number, there is a bit more of an introduction required.

First, let's talk about doing a production number.

Begin with a welcome to the Monarchs and guests: Fellow Monarchs, Honoured Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Then introduce the organization: Please welcome the Imperial Sovereign Court of the Wild Rose, Edmonton Alberta Canada

Then, place a note to the emcee to start the music for your number.

From this point on, protocol becomes the same whether you are doing a production number, or simply doing a walk.

At this point, it is expected to offer a few congratulatory comments to the Monarchs stepping down and, if appropriate, a few personal comments to them: Cory and Hell-on, congratulations on a wonderful year. Hell-on — you've been a dear friend to us all

Next, once again get the audience's attention, and identify your organization, city and house: Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome representing the city of Edmonton, The Imperial Sovereign Court of the Wild Rose, and the 26th Imperial House of the Fun That Was Lost But Not Forgotten...

Start listing the titles and names of the members of your house present. Titles should be listed on individual cards so that if names need to be added or removed, it can be done easily. (As a point of interest, Ultimas and Heirs walk according to the title they currently hold, or past titles they have held. Exceptions to this would be covered in ICC or QM protocol: i.e. during the presence of such ranking members as the Queen Mother, etc.) Titles walk in the following order:

- Friends of the Court
- Past Perennial Title Holders King/Queen of Hearts
- Past Perennial Title Holders Miss Mary Christmas
- Camp titles and positions
- Lordling/Damsel
- Lord/Lady
- Esquire/Squire

- Lord/Lady in Waiting
- Knight/Dame
- Baron/Baroness
- Viscount/Viscountess
- Count/Countess
- Earl
- Marquess/Marquessa
- Duke/Duchess
- Personal Prince & Princess to the Emperor
- Personal Prince & Princess to the Empress
- Prince & Princess of the Realm
- Prince & Princess of the Wild Rose
- Current Reigning King of Hearts & Queen of Hearts
- Current Reigning Miss Mary Christmas
- Past Entertainers of the Year (oldest to most recent)
- Current Reigning Entertainer of the Year
- Past Gay Edmontons (oldest to most recent)
- Current Reigning Mr. Ms & Mz Gay Edmonton
- Current Reigning Emperor ½ and Empress ½
- Past Imperial Grand Duke & Duchesses (oldest to most recent)
- Past Imperial Crown Prince & Princesses (oldest to most recent)
- Past Emperor and Empresses (oldest to most recent)
- Current Reigning Imperial Grand Duke & Duchess
- Current Reigning Imperial Crown Prince & Princesses
- Current Reigning Emperor & Empress

Finally, wrap up your protocol with an invitation to Edmonton's next Annual Charity Ball: Their Most Imperial Sovereign Majesties, Emperor and Empress 26 — Rob and Ida Claire, would like to invite you all to the Big Onion, Edmonton Alberta on August 24, 2002 for Coronation 27 — Bounce: The Ball!

This is just the format for protocol. Within this format, there is lots of room for the individuality of the reigning Monarchs to shine through.

It is the responsibility of the titleholders to inform the Monarchs or Minister of Protocol whether they will attend a Coronation. Titles should not be put into protocol "in case they arrive". If a titleholder does not show the courtesy of informing Monarchs of their presence, they forfeit the privilege of walking at that coronation.

If you are doing a production number for a coronation, please ensure that the number is in the theme of the evening, and that you meet any requirements set out by the Court hosting the Coronation.

i. LAST WALKS AND TIPPING:

Tipping is a sign of friendship and respect. There are no hard and fast rules on tipping, other than rules set out earlier regarding bowing and curtsying.

The time for hugs and kisses at a coronation is while tipping a last walk, not during the court walk. Titleholders who have a last walk should remember that the audience wants to be entertained, and too much hugging and kissing becomes self indulgent quickly. Furthermore, unless you have a specific request not to be tipped in your protocol, show your tippers the courtesy of accepting their tips if tip takers are not provided. Please do not ignore them.

It has become the custom of late for all Emperors to join the stepping down Emperor on stage for his final walk, and all Empresses to join the stepping down Empress on stage for her final walk. Please do not forget to acknowledge your peers as they stand behind you.

6. MONARCH AWARDS

At the end of their reign, the Monarchs are allowed to give out several awards. Some of the awards are organizational, and are discussed in the Rules and Regulations of the ISCWR. These awards include Citizen of the Year and Entertainer of the Year.

The following is a list of some other awards Monarchs may or may not choose to give at the end of their reign. Awards should be given out at Victory Brunch.

a. EMPEROR & EMPRESS AWARDS:

These awards are given out to 1 member of the Lower House who went above and beyond the call of duty when it came to fulfilling the goals of the Monarchs. Generally, the Emperor selects 1 award winner, and the Empress selects 1 award winner.

b. MONARCH TO MONARCH AWARDS:

The highest awards given by the Emperor/Empress are the Emperor to Emperor, Emperor to Empress, Empress to Emperor and Empress to Empress awards. There are generally only the 4 awards given out in this category, although if Monarchs choose, they can break it down into reigning and past, or in town and out of town categories. Also, Monarchs may decide to give 2 to Emperors and none to Emperors or vice versa.

c. SIBLING AWARDS:

These awards go out to fellow Monarchs who mean a great deal to the stepping down Monarchs. They take the form of Brother Emperors and Sister Emperesses to the stepping down Emperor or Empress. Any number of these awards are possible.

d. OTHER AWARDS:

Monarchs may, at their discretion, also give out any number of other awards, including:

- Awards of Merit
- Outstanding Contribution Awards
- Friendship Awards

The objective behind these awards is for the Monarchs to acknowledge individuals who have made significant contributions to their reigns.

7. DYNASTIC NAMES

A tradition in the Court System is the use of Dynastic Names. A Dynasty Name is a name used by a member of the community, which they proceed to bestow upon other members of the community as a sign of respect and friendship. Although this is by no means a complete list of Dynasty Names in use in Edmonton, here are some examples: St. Claire, Bigonion, Hole, and on and on and on.

To receive a Dynasty Name is an honour, and should always be treated as such. However, the difficulty this concept has produced is that multiple names have been awarded to many people. Out of respect, they, in turn, use all of these names. Coronations, as a result, become a boring grocery list of names, and since many have the same names in common, no one is ever really certain who is being announced, nor, by this point do they really care.

As a result of this, we ask that you select a first and last name to be known by during your reign, and stick to it when you walk. This does not mean that you cannot accept a Dynasty Name if it is offered to you, as this remains a great personal honour. However, when you walk, only use your selected name. When you are required to put your signature on something (for example your ball program message), it is perfectly acceptable to list all of your Dynasty Names.

8. CONCLUSION

Thank you for taking the time to read this Manual of Protocol and Procedures. For someone new to the Court System, our customs and rituals seem horribly confusing, and there are no shortages of people out there waiting to point every mistake out to you.

Please remember that there is always room for individuality in this organization. Examples given reflect the most common way of doing protocol, but are by no means the only way of doing protocol. If you have any questions about how to do something, or would like to try doing something a little differently, please always ask the Minister of Protocol the question before you go ahead and do something. If the Minister is not comfortable enough to give you an answer immediately, he/she will always present the question to the Executive Board of the ISCWR.

This manual gives you guidelines to follow as far as protocol and behaviour. This is only part of your job. To be truly successful in the Court System, you need to have fun, and make sure everyone around you is having fun.

A special thank you to their Imperial Sovereign Majesties: Empress II Mr Chatty Cathy Jackson, Empress XIV, XXX and XXXVI Leah Way, and Emperor XXVI, XXVIII and XXXVI Rob BigOnion for their contributions to the content of this document.
